

PANGAEA DIGITAL LABS • STORYBOOK

Meet Pawmail.

A cozy, friendly email app made just for pet owners and their furry pen-pals.

ONCE UPON AN INBOX

A softer place to write.

Every message starts in a calm little meadow — no clutter, no stress, just mail.

MEET THE MASCOT

Say hi to Pip.

Pip is your friendly mail-pup. He fetches new letters, wags when a reply lands, and keeps your inbox tidy so you can spend more time with your real pets.

- Fetches every new message and drops it gently in your lap.
- Sorts vet reminders, treats, and friends into cozy little baskets.
- Reminds you, softly, when a furry friend is waiting on a reply.

HELPFUL TIPS

Two tiny tips for happy mail.

Tag your pets Add a 🐾 tag to each pet's thread so vet notes, photos, and playdate plans never wander off into the wrong basket.

Use Quiet Paws Flip on Quiet Paws in the evening — Pip naps, notifications hush, and your inbox waits politely until morning.

A GENTLE WARNING

One thing to watch.

Auto-fetch is friendly, but it pulls mail every few minutes — even on cellular.

⚠ Heads up: on a small data plan, turn auto-fetch to Wi-Fi only so Pip doesn't nibble through your gigabytes while you're out walking the dog.

A peek at the send API.

Sending a letter through Pawmail is one cozy little call:

```
await pawmail.send({
  to: "buddy@pawmail.app",
  subject: "Walkies at 5? 🐕",
  body: "Bring the squeaky ball!",
  paw: "🐾" // optional paw-print stamp
});
```

That's it — Pip carries it the rest of the way.

Should you switch to Pawmail? 🐶

The Concept A calm, pet-first inbox where every thread feels like a friendly little postcard.

The Appeal Cozy design, gentle reminders, and a mail-pup who actually fetches.

The Reality Easy to set up, plays nice with your old inbox, and Quiet Paws keeps evenings peaceful.

✓ Verdict: switch. If your inbox stresses you out, Pawmail makes mail feel like a walk in the park.

THANK YOU FOR VISITING

Write warmly. Mail happily. 🐾
